A Day in Ancient Rome.

THE LATIN CLUB GIVES ITS FIRST PUBLIC EXHIBITION, FOLLOWED BY A BANQUET.

"A Day in Ancient Rome," in which Mary Queen of Scots and a strictly up-to-date modern professor figured somewhat prominently was presented by the Latin Club to a large and appreciative audience of students and residents last Thursday evening in the Art Institute. Latin reigned supreme; everything that was said and done on the stage had a distinctively Latin flavour. Everyone in the audience who had failed to improve their opportunities of mastering the intricacies of Latin prose composition were filled with regret for their negligence. From the appearance of the club in the processional to the close of the banquet there were many attempts at rapid translation on the part of the audience, the success of which could be judged by the blank expression which would come over the faces of many when there seemed to have been a joke cracked or a sublime expression reached, as evidenced by the actions of the more fortunate few. However, in spite of the difficulty of understanding the language everyone got a great deal of pleasure out of the excellent acting.

Some of the most interesting features of the program were the initiation into the club of Professor M. Bross Thomas, which was carried on in the Roman manner of conducting public business, first in the senate and then in the assembly; the pantomime representation of the story of Brutus, consisting of the expulsion of King Tarquin, the conspiracy to restore the King, the conspiracy disclosed, the trial and condemnation of the consuls only son for participation in the conspiracy and the consul as executioner; and the supper, which was served in the manner of the ancient Romans.

This is the first time this year that the Latin Club has given a public exhibition of any kind and it is to be congratulated upon the success of this one. The character of the entertainment showed that it had required an immense amount of work and the faithfulness with which that work was done was amply rewarded by the success of the evening. After the entertainment there was a real feast given to the club and the friends that assisted in the entertainment. This was a strictly modern affair enjoyed in a strictly modern manner.

The Latin Club is composed of the members of the Latin departments of the College and Seminary. Its origin is due largely to the efforts of Professor Stuart of the College and Miss Mary Taylor of the Seminary. The present officers and members are as follows:

ATHLETIC NEWS.

Beloit Steals the Game.

At 6:30 o'clock Decoration Day morning the 'varsity team left for Beloit arriving there at 11 o'clock, where accommodations were provided at the Goodwin Hotel.

The game was played in the afternoon on the college field before a large holiday crowd and according to expectations from the reports of every college team that has played Beloit on her home grounds this year our team received the most unfair treatment at the hands of the umpire. Some of his decisions being so rank as to bring forth hisses from the fair-minded ones of Beloit's own crowd.

Rogers pitched an excellent game securing as many strike-outs as Hollister in spite of the umpire, who would seldom call a strike for him unless the batter swung his bat. In one inning four men in succession because they did not swing their bat thrice were given their base by the umpire. The few hits that were obtained by Beloit Rogers kept well scattered and considering the very great odds against him he did wonderfully well.

For four innings even in the face of very uncollegiate treatment Lake Forest played winning ball having no errors and the more hits still Beloit aided by the umpire steadily increased their runs.

In the fifth inning things came to such a crisis that captain Jaeger justly called the team from the field and it was only the fear of losing the guarantee money that caused the game to proceed under the same umpire even though the point was granted.

Hollister pitches a very heady game and the ball he uses mostly was so slow that it puzzled the batters, one batter actually swinging twice on one ball, hitting it on the second swing for a fly hit.

About the middle of the game the 'varsity saw it was impossible to win under the existing conditions and listless ball was played when their only errors were accumulated.

Heywood caught a good game until he injured his hand and then had many passed balls, even these he would have stopped had circumstances warranted better playing though he was a little weak throwing bases.

This is not Lake Forest's first nor worst defeat hence it is plain that the protest is not made on those grounds and we are now satisfied that the complaints of other visiting teams and Champaign's quitting the game were justifiable.

The following summary fully shows that there must be something wrong, when the apparently weaker team wins the game by a one-sided score:

Manager Graff was fully justified in telling Beloit that he did not think that Lake Forest would agree to meet her again on home grounds for some years to come.

Chicago Wins Triangular Meet.

The University of Chicago won the triangular athletic meet at Marshall Field yesterday by a score of 63 points. Northwestern got second and Lake Forest third place. Lake Forest had exceptionally hard luck. J. J. Jackson fell in the high hurdles when even with Stiegmeyer of Chicago with every prospect of winning, and in the 220 hurdles his distance was measured a yard too long and threw him out of his stride. He was a close second to Perry, nevertheless, when he fell again on the last hurdle and got only third place. Potter beat D. H. Jackson in both the dashes and won also the quarter-mile from Patterson of Chicago. W. Jackson got third in the quarter in spite of his injured knee.

Cragin won his mile easily in 4:55 4-5 with Alcott a close second. It was the first race of the day and the score began to look hopeful, but "D. H.'s" adventure with the hose cart at the fire last week and "J. J.'s" hard luck settled it once for all.

Woolsey broke his old record for the hammer throw, sending it 103 feet 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches. Lee followed with a throw of 91 feet and his nearest competitor was Logie of Chicago at 10 feet less. Woolsey won by a margin of 22 feet. Anderson got second in the mile walk, going the distance in about 8:15. Bettis got third in the high hurdles. Cragin won the half mile in 2:07, Callhoun of Chicago second. It established a track record.

A serious accident occurred in the two mile bicycle race. W. More's front wheel was crowded against the hind wheel of Peabody's bicycle and the former was thrown upon the track with two other riders. His collar bone was broken.

Lake Forest won the relay. In the first lap Cragin gave Patterson a lead of fifteen yards and followed Brown of Northwestern by about ten. A. O. Jackson ran a hard race and reduced this lead to nearly ten yards in the second relay. Gates of Northwestern and Peabody then started out and J. Jackson by some very brilliant running closed up the gap and came in two yards ahead. D. H. Jackson ran his quarter easily and won by five yards from Becker of Northwestern. White of Chicago came in about 100 yards behind. The mile was run in 3:40, which is very good time considering the slowness of the track.

The meet was very poorly attended and not enough money was taken in to pay for the prizes.

A SONG.

Sweetheart, spin the day away,
Sunset glints are on the bay;
Hastes thy lover through the sea,
True and fearless, now to thee.

Love, haste to maiden fair,
Love-winds quickly thee will bear
O'er the seas and far away,
To thy sweetheart in the bay.

Tenderly she spins away.
Sails he fast unto the bay,
Vine-clad cot and barque of white,
Each the home of love and light.

The following extract from the Chicago Evening Post shows that the worth of Rush is becoming more and more appreciated.

"Dr. E. Fletcher Ingals, registrar of Rush Medical College, has received word from the board of examiners of the Royal Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons of London that Rush has been added to the list of institutions recognized by that board." This recognition is simply an appreciation of the fact that Rush stands among the leading medical colleges of the world.

AMONG THE ALUMNI.

"Owing to the advancement of J. D. McNamara to the chief clerkship in the general passenger agent's office of the Burlington Route, as announced in The Republic of yesterday, two other young Burlingtonites receive well-merited promotion. F. C. Sharon, formerly advertising agent, has been made chief rate clerk, and R. H. Crozier will succeed Mr. Sharon in the handling of the Burlington's advertising contracts."—St. Louis Republic. THE STENOR congratulates the gentlemen upon their promotion. Mr. Sharon was editor of THE STENOR during two years of his college course, and at the same time Mr. Crozier was business manager.

AMONG THE EXCHANGES.

I have plowed the festive clearing
Many a weary summer day,
And have wrestled with the locust roots
That filled me with dismay.
I have delved in Anglo-Saxon,
And have grubbed "Achilles' Wrath,"
But the curliest-crooked, toughest, are
The roots I met in Math.

W. G. Condit received a visit from his father last week.

The Seniors are busy practising for their entertainment.

Active preparations are being made for the successful publication of the "Bulletin."

J. A. Conro left the ball team at Elgin on their return from Beloit and spent Sunday at home.

H. J. Betten spent a few days last week in Chicago to get his final points on his thesis "The Dutch in Chicago."

The chemistry classes have now completed their year's labors and other studies are fast coming to an end.

Quite a large number have signified their intention of entering summerschool and many more have it under consideration.

A party of a dozen cyclists visited Fort Sheridan last Friday from Mitchell Hall, the College and Academy.

The Misses Hodge and Jack entertained Messrs. Welch and Haseltine, of Evanston last Friday evening.

Manager Stoops has already begun correspondence for dates for the musical clubs for next fall and for a spring trip of two weeks.

The STENTOR will lose a valuable reporter next year, in the person of Mr. Carl Rankin, he having decided to go to school in Cincinnati, next year.

What are you going to do all this summer? Of course you are coming back next fall.

A great many young people took advantage of the pleasant evening and the fact that there was no church Sunday night and viewed the lake by moonlight.

So that the tapes will not be all worn out during the summer, the tennis association has decided to remove them from the courts until fall.

Quite a number of enthusiasts followed the track team to the city Saturday. As rain caused a postponing till Tuesday, school duties kept many from attending the triangular.

It is by the courtesy of the Chicago Evening Post, through its local representative, S. E. Gruenstein, that we are enabled to publish the cuts of the Latin Club officers in this issue.

The ball team should not feel bad over their defeat of last Saturday as they put up a better game than the victors (not counting the umpire.) Today they play at Madison, Wis., and with the game June 9th at Notre Dame, Ind., the season's schedule will be completed.

A new method has been instituted by the new athletic board for the collection of the delinquent accounts on last fall's subscription list. If every student will see that his personal account is settled, the association will be able to start with a clear record next fall.

J. A. Anderson had quite an experience last week. He received a telegram stating that a man bearing his brother's name and answering his description was fatally injured. An immediate trip was made to the city and all the hospitals visited including the one at Dunning, Ill., before the sought for body was finally located in a morgue, but we are happy to relate that though the corpse was an almost exact likeness of the brother, it was not he and Andy felt a great weight removed.

Academy.

"Do you think you passed?"

"Boneing" is in order now, examinations began last Tuesday and will last till Friday.

From the prospects now, the Academy will have a very large graduating class, next year, the third form students number now about nineteen.

Kennevy is slowly recovering, he will leave for home to-day, if possible, not being in a condition to take his examinations.

C. Betten, S. E. Davies, F. F. Ferry, J. P. Cobb, C. Q. Lyman and A. F. McIntosh are the fourth form students who will graduate from the Academy this year.

The Junior promenade to be given to the seniors by the junior class in Reid Hall Thursday night, will be a social event of importance. This evening is always the most enjoyable one of the commencement week.

Miss Morgan has a college pin.

Charlotte Stinson entertained Miss Threse Thomas and her sister over Sunday.

Miss Sweet, Miss Chaffer, Miss Raymond and Miss Bosley spent Sunday in Chicago.

Leta Stoddard, Marion Callhoun and Edith Mercer went home Friday. They're coming back.

Last Friday evening the juniors gave a lawn party in honor of the seniors. Although the campus had been tastefully decorated, the evening was spent on the verandas on account of the rain. The music consisting of a harp and two violins came from Chicago and was appreciated by everyone. Orange ice and cake was served in the back parlor during the evening. At a late hour the guests departed reporting a most delightful time.
